DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

Group I claims (s) 29-49 drawn to a device for automated evolutionary assistance to air traffic computer, classified in class 701, subclass 120

Group II claims (s) 50-51 drawn to a method, for evolutionary assistance to air traffic controllers performed in an air traffic control system, classified in class 342, subclass 455.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions listed as Groups I and II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another and materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process other than assistance to air traffic controllers. For example, the apparatus can be utilized for communicating location and or the status information.

3. Upon electing Group I only, the applicant is further required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect one of the following disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable (currently, no claims appear to generic):

- A. means for displaying on the controller display screen, the time left before the actual conflict and/or the separation at the crossing of the trajectories.
- B. means for displaying on the controller display screen, moments of occurrence of potential conflicts still to be solved on a time graduated axis.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
